MISS PRINGLE GLAD

Los Angeles, Oct. 28.—(UPI)—

Dressed in the blue denim of the Los Angeles county jail, Alexander Pantages was "dressed up" today as a "rugged" man.

The theater magnate had little sleep ahead his conviction last night of an assault upon Earlie Shouse, 17-year-old dancer.

"I believe I got a raw deal,"

Pantages declared. "I didn't have a chance with the jury from the start. It looks like a man is up against it when he goes to trial. This kind of a charge against him now if it is a lemma."

When Pantages was booked in at the sergeant's desk he gave his weight as 162 pounds and height 5 feet 5 1/2 inches.

His difficulties amounted to $16.

For purchases of curtains, bed covers and a package of pins he paid the sum suggested.

From his cell today Pantages spent his first afternoon.

"I think I got a 'shot,'" he said. "But I got a 'shot'."

Miss Pringle was "the great jewel" of the stage, according to the

"I think she was the only living thing that could die," she said.

Whether she will continue her stage career she hoped to start this week.

It developed today that it was the attorney Miss Pringle gave her right to the state more than twice to sue. And so while this additional sum the state has been spending "very many" days amounts to many thousands. The

"I did have a right to sue," she said. "But I did not believe the defendant." Miss E. Pringle, former Friend Brings Man To Jail On Rum Charge

HARRY CARTER, deputy sheriff, today was putting himself on the back and trapping of his nervous powers. A friend of a man Carter says is a bootlegger arrested in the alleged lawless section of the business, he is here for the officer.

"It's not often you hear of anything like that," Carter said. "We found a still at the place of Bartolo Trujillo, but Trujillo was so frightened that he organized his friends to bring him to jail for me when he showed up and by golly, we did it."

Trujillo was booked at the jail for investigation, but the officer was unable to get him to talk. He was brought to court on a charge of possession of a still. The still and equipment were found by Carter and M. E. Jenkins, deputy sheriff, Saturday night.

With returns on the new four cent income tax on banks and corporations nearly complete, a total of $400,000,000 has been paid into the state treasury, according to the state auditor general. The new Franchise Tax Commission delayed its final report until October 31 will knock the total to $394,000,000, Blight said.

Subject of a bitter contesting between the two sides in the legislature, the new law has had a rocky path with supporters saying it would not produce much more than $100,000 in revenue

and opponents insisting it would cost the state more than $100,000.

But a recent audit shows

the new rate amounts to

more than $100,000 in revenue

and opponents insist it will cost the state less than $100,000.

As such, the state's income tax is a failure

in its original intent.

Charges Committee With Unfair Political Tactics During Probe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(UPI)—Charging the senate today investigation committee with unfair political tactics, Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, today defended in the Senate his appointment of Charles L. Evans of the Connecticut Manufacturers' association as his secretary.

"I was advised by friends not to appear before the committee because it had been framed against me as a friend of the administration," Bingham said.

Blighon criticized Chairman Morris of the judiciary committee for attempting to make it the investigating committee.

"The chairman of the judiciary committee," Blighon said, "is the only committee chairman who in the last campaign denounced the Roosevelt administration and did his best to elect the Democratic candidates. I have defended him because I think his willingness to be chairman of the committee is evidence of his independence."
